Hauhan District is in the eastern part of the country. It has the largest number of schools in the country. For that matter, most of the learned people come from that district. The teachers in this area are very good. They are happy to see their pupils passing examinations with super grades. So, every year there is a 'victors' examination which is done by selected children in the schools.

Last year, Safari, a pupil at Yamuka Primary School, registered for this examination. She was proud to be considered for the first time. Her teachers started giving her remedial lessons in the subjects that were difficult for her.

Within three months, she was ready. The only remaining challenge was punctuation. The head teacher, Mr. Tunda, helped her. On the day for the exams, Safari walked to the district headquarters. It was the venue for the examinations. Safari found other children there. The supervisor briefed them. The first examination was English. This was followed by Maths in the afternoon. The other two papers were done on Friday, the next day.

After two weeks, the results were out. The District Education Officer announced them on Hauhan Radio. Safari was the best. What followed was a big festival. All Safari's relatives were invited. There was a lot of eating and dancing. Safari got a lot of gifts from friends and relatives. The chairman of the district promised to pay school fees for Safari up to the university. She hopes to become a doctor. For the first time, Yamuka Primary School appeared in The Star Newspaper. The pupils and the teachers were happy to read it. Since then, the school has been receiving a free copy of that newspaper daily.

Correcting mistakes with love

And providing the basic needs.
