SECTION B

51. Read the story below and in full sentences answer the questions that follow.

Ceremonies are formal public events with special traditions or words according to the primary seven curriculum. We learn about two types of ceremonies namely marriage ceremonies and funeral ceremonies.

Marriage is the relationship between two people who are husband and wife. In Uganda, we have three major types of marriage namely; religious marriage where the main celebrant is a religious leader, cultural marriage (aka customary) marriage which is celebrated according to the rights of a community and the state marriage (aka civil marriage) which is presided over by a state official. However, some people are practicing homosexuality but this is illegal and against the will of God.

Funeral as a ceremony is the way of burying or cremating somebody who has died. Cremation is the act of burning a dead body. The cremains are stored in the urn. This is done in parts of India due to lack of enough space / land for burying the corpse into the grave as it is in Uganda.

The most powerful,
God, the creator
He decides on
When to create and
When to dismantle
When to give and
When to take

The most powerful
God, the incomparable
He knows what;
You think before you say
You plan before you fulfil
You love before you show
You hate before you reveal
To the recipient.

The most powerful
God, the owner
Of your life, so
Don't be proud
Of your wealth
Don't boast around
He is the master planner.
