Friday was a big day in Nzero sub-county. All primary schools in that area broke up for the second term holidays. Everybody knew about this day. The education officer had announced on radio Pokopoko that no child would remain at school on that day. Taxi drivers, motorcycle riders and even bicycle owners knew it was a day to work with passengers.

So, as early as six in the morning, people started moving. Most schools had given the reports to the pupils the day before. This could make the pupils' transport easier. They would find no traffic jam on the way. Some of the pupils of Noze Primary School, decided to walk home. They lived near the school.

After about a kilometer along Noze Road, they met a group of three men. The men told the pupils to put their luggage down. They scared them with clubs. The children ran back to school. The news reached the village chairperson, Mr. Dondi.

Mr. Dondi organized a security meeting. At exactly eight, the meeting began. The secretary of the village sent telephone messages to all the people to attend. At the end of the meeting, it was agreed that there would be a security hunt for the wrong men. Mr. Dondi had two dogs. They had been trained in hunting criminals. In about thirty minutes, the dogs had discovered the thieves who were hiding in one of the banana plantations. They still had the children's property.

As a punishment, the three men were given six lashes of the cane each. Later they were taken to the police cells. They would be there for one year. It would be a lesson for them. We hope they would change their conduct.
